O.O.R.P. Annual Meeting District No. 6

The Separate School Auditorium was the scene of a very colorful ceremony on Wednesday, May 12th, when the Ladies of the Royal Purple of Wainwright and Edmonton held their annual meeting of District No. 6. Owing to the condition of the roads lodges of Vermilion, Lloydminster, Chauvin and Leduc were unable to attend.

At 2:30 p.m. Honored Royal Lady MacGregor of Wainwright Lodge conducted the opening ceremony, and the visiting Past and Honored Royal ladies and pianist Lady K. MacDonald were presented with corsages.

During the afternoon, different parts of the ritual were beautifully exemplified by both Wainwright and Edmonton lodges.

Promptly at 6 p.m. the ladies in white with several of the brother Elks, journeyed to the I.O.O.F. Hall. Deep purple flowers against a snowy white background, and the sparkling silverware was a very pretty setting for the delicious banquet which was prepared by the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion and thoroughly enjoyed by all present. A short program concluded the banquet and at 8:00 p.m. the ladies resumed the business meeting. Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Whittaker of Edmonton was elected by the lodges to be recommended for District Deputy for District No. 6 at the Supreme Convention in Edmonton in July.

Several resolutions were also dealt with.

Reports of Edmonton, Wainwright and Lloydminster lodges on their current years activities proved very inspiring and encouraging. The meeting was formally closed in peace and harmony and was followed by an enjoyable social hour at the Canadin Legion canteen.

Clean-Up Campaign Good For Communities

The latter part of this month marks Spring Clean-Up time, the time when upwards of 400 communities from coast to coast pitch in and give themselves a spruceup by way of official greeting to the summer ahead.

The growth of the clean-up, paint-up campaigns in recent years has been little short of spectacular. For many years, a handful of towns and cities in various parts of the country conducted local campaigns in the spring; but the net result was as nothing compared with that of the widespread campaigns of the last few years.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Canadian Beautification Bureau, a non-profit organization, share the credit for building up the Clean-up, Paint-up theme into a big annual event. Under their general sponsorship, local citizen committees have carried the plan into every part of the country and have provided the local push that puts any campaign across.

Human law is right only as it patterns the divine. Consolation and peace are based on the enlightened sense of God's government.—Mary Baker Eddy.

HEATH

Mr. John Smith, oil driller who has been working at Erskine, Alta., spent several days last week visiting his family in Wainwright and relatives in this district. He was accompanied from Edmonton by his sister, Mrs. Violet Davis, who spent the day here, also his mother Mrs. H. Smith who was returning home from a visit in the city.

Sylvia Davis had the misfortune to have a nasty fall at school on Thursday when she cracked her wrist. She is recovering nicely now.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Murray on the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, at the Wainwright municipal hospital on May 18th. Brother Robert said to Grandma Jones when told about his new brother and sister, "Momma won't have to worry about income tax now."

National Film Board Picture will be presented at Heath school on Thursday, May 20th, at 8:00 p.m. Pictures to be shown are: "Eye Witness; Mexico Today; Electricity; Fit For Tomorrow; After Six O'clock; and Singing Stars of Tomorrow." Everybody welcome.

PLAXTONVILLE

Mrs. Murray of Wainwright is at present visiting her daughter, Mrs. Don Teeter.

We were sorry to hear that Master Teddy Anderson is a patient in the local hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. S. Simonson, Superintendent of Schools, paid a visit to Plaxtonville school on Monday.

The Plaxtonville and White Cloud schools plan to hold a ball game at the Gilt Edge Park Hall Grounds on Friday afternoon. These teams are practising for the track meet which we understand is to be held on Saturday, May 22.

Everyone being so busy these days there were not enough members present to hold the monthly meeting of the Gilt Edge Sports Club at the school on Tuesday evening.

Seen around the district this week were: L. Dahl delivering fuel; the road grader run by Mr. J. Zajic; Mr. J. Reid, school repair man, fixing up the teacherage; and the Craig family moving into their new home in the store. Mr. Craig hopes to have the store open for business early in June.

Report To The People

OUTLINE OF PENSION INCREASES AND HEALTH SCHEME

By Robert Fair, M.P. Battle River

On Tuesday, May the 11th, an announcement was made in the House of Commons by the Minister of Veterans Affairs, Honorable Milton F. Gregg, which is of vital interest to war pensioners all across Canada. This is the result of work done by members of the Special Parliamentary Committee over the past months, and also requests from the several veteran organizations in Canada.

The Minister's announcement deals with increased benefits to 400,000 Canadian men, women and children, including 150,000 disabled veterans and 17,000 widows. It raises pension for a 100% unmarried disability case from $76 to $94 a month; a widow from $60 to $76; a first child from $15 to $19 and a family of 5 on total pension from $137 to $171 monthly. It increases the total Pensions Bill from 78 millions to 91 million dollars a year, and will mean about 13 millions in retroactive payments, as the increases are back-paid to the first of October 1947.

Some weeks ago the Government announced a 16% increase in its pension payments and a bill dealing with this was given second reading in the House, but veteran organizations were not satisfied with the 16% increase and the same opinion was held by the Special Committee on Veterans Affairs. After hearing representations, a motion was made to increase the pension by 25%; to this an amendment was made to increase it to 33⅓% and this was voted down by a vote of 16-15. Another amendment was moved which would add a cost-of-living bonus to the 25% increase and when a vote was taken on this amendment, it was shown to be a tie and was defeated by the Chairman's vote. A vote on the original motion was carried unanimously by all members of the Committee voting in favour of it, and it was recommended to the Cabinet by the Minister, Mr. Gregg. I might say that the 25% proposal originated with the Canadian Legion.

The Government had earlier, on the recommendation of the Special Committee on Veterans Affairs, agreed to an increase in helplessness allowance of $1,400 instead of $750 a year. This is an allowance paid to pensioners who need the help of others in their daily lives and the two raises mean that a married, childless veteran, with full pension and allowance, will get $2,900 a year, none of which is subject to Income Tax.

Five other changes were also accepted by the Government and are as follows:

1) Stabilization of First World War pensions that have been in force for at least three years. Average age of the 69,700 pensioners from that war is nearly 60. The change will allow their pensions to go up but not down.

2) Removal of the clause which hits the man whom the Pensions Com-

Open Driver Training Schools In Alberta

Driver training in Alberta schools is being urged and it appears that the movement has created a great deal of interest, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

The matter has been discussed by a sub-committee of the provincial curriculum committee and has been recommended for consideration by the senior body at its May meeting.

It has been proposed that a start be made on an experimental basis in some city schools next term, providing that trained teachers are available.

In this connection, the American Automobile Association has announced that it will establish a teacher training school in Vancouver during August, if there are sufficient applicants to justify a class being organized.

Driver training schools under private auspices already have been opened in some parts of Alberta. Officials of the A.M.A. have stated that any endorsation of such schools would have to depend on the production of satisfactory information that the instructors were qualified.

In the U.S. it has been found that where driver training has been developed in the schools, there has been a noticeable reduction in motor vehicle accidents.

DEEP SEEDING DECREASES YIELD

In many instances a farmer will blame a poor stand of wheat on some invisible insect when in many cases the wheat has been put in too deep to come up. Recommended depths of seeding wheat is from two to three inches. When put in at a greater depth the chance of germination and the chance of the small seedling being able to push it's way to the surface is cut very down. Wheat seeds need to be seeded deep enough to be in moisture. Three small roots are formed on the seed which supply the nourishment for the seedling to push through the ground. After the crown of the plant is formed just under the ground the rest of the wheat plants root system develops from this crown and the three primary roots dry up and die. Deep seeding will not put the feeder roots of wheat deeper into the ground as they are formed just under the surface of the ground.

CATTLE PRICES

It is believed that an all time Canadian record for commercial stockyard sales was established April 30 at Calgary when a hereford steer owned by Jack Paul of Okotoks sold for $21.00 a hundred weight. (Alberta Wheat Pool Budget).

The rise in cattle prices at this time indicates a lack of beef for domestic markets as well as the overseas market. It may also indicate that the packers feel that the embargo will be lifted to the USA. Whatever the reason, farmers should market only finished cattle, if they have any feed to carry their stock through to this stage. The quality of the product we can produce in Canada will determine our future markets when war torn countries again start exporting on the world market.

WEED SEEDS IN SEED GRAIN

This last week I visited all points on the east side of my territory. Farmers are beginning to seed this week and in the rush of spring work many lots of seed are not being cleaned properly. Samples inspected showed a varying degree of weed seed content, with wild oats and wild buckwheat being in prominence. One sample contained 30 buckwheat per pound, another contained 8 wild oats per pound of seed. If we multiply this out for an acre, with seeding at the rate of one bushel per acre, we will have in the first field 1800 buckwheat plants per acre, in the second sample 480 wild oats will be planted per acre. These figures represent a heavy seeding of weeds.

Seed should be cleaned with strict care. If a hand full of grain is picked out of a sample and one seed found in the handful, this is too much to seed back into the ground. The excuse that the ground is polluted with weed seeds is not good enough. No amount of careful cultural practice can clean up our weed problem if we keep putting weed seeds into the ground every year.

Baseball Club Holds Initial Meeting

To ensure that baseball in the Wainwright district gets underway soon, the local Elks Baseball Club held their first meeting of the season on May 14th last with over 20 enthusiasts in attendance. Mr. Stan Ryan held the position of Secretary and Chairman of the meeting.

Plans were laid for the coming season which will open shortly, and it is expected that by the time the season really gets underway the east-end league of Highway 14 will be in proper form. This league includes teams from, Edgerton, Ribstone, Chauvin and Wainwright.

The topic of new uniforms for the club was discussed and this matter will be looked into by two members appointed from the meeting.

Mr. Geo. Reynolds consented to be team manager this year and Mr. Alex Hansen will fill the capacity of team coach.

Other business included the hiring of a grounds keeper and the meeting went on record that one should be obtained. His duties would be to mark out the baselines and in general keep the ball diamonds in perfect shape for playing.

The first practice was held on Sunday, May 16th, with future practices to be held on Wednesday, May 19th, Friday May 21st and Sunday May 23.

The Baseball Club is desirous of obtaining all the talent they can and an appeal was issued for any ball players, not already contacted, to turn out at the practices and they would be given an opportunity to show their ability.

A Real Bargain In Rail Travel

Best story to come out of Saskatchewan's otherwise grim flood picture was the following:

A woman wanted to go from Battleford to her home at Delmas, 10 miles away. On Saturday, she bought a return ticket from the local Canadian National Railways agent for 55 cents. On Monday, she was still travelling on the same ticket, after having been re-routed to Saskatoon, Kindersley, Hanna, Edmonton and Lloydminster. She was also stranded a day west of Lloydminster.

Wednesday she was reported back home at Delmas, after travelling 900 miles for 55 cents.

'THE TRAMP'S SONG
Mary O'Neill

I left the Streets of Galway town,
And walked and walked until I stood
By Barna wood,
Where the grumbling stream runs under the road
I saw the fishes jump for flies.
Isn't it better be young than wise?
As the man long ago said.
The moss was spotted with yellow and blue;
I watched the shadows grow long and brown.
As the sun went down;
The sky in the west was scarlet red
And the stream was clear and cold.
Isn't it better have luck than gold?

Numbering System Numbers; Allotted Wednesday, June 2

Residents of Wainwright will be asked on Wednesday, June 2 to co-operate in the Board of Trade's House Numbering Plan when it will go into effect on that day.

The Civic Improvement Committee of the B. of T. under chairmanship of Mr. J. Mitchell have had the idea in mind for some time and have had to iron out many of the difficulties encountered. The Star is pleased to report that Mr. Mitchell and his volunteer crew will cover Wainwright like a blanket on the date mentioned above and allot each householder and business place a number. The numbers which will be the financial responsibility of each resident (approximately 20c per set) will be obtainable from the local stores and are to be placed upon the premises as soon as they are allotted. The Star would like to make clear that no person can be forced to affix a house number to his building but it is anticipated that everyone will co-operate in this matter and within no time at all Wainwright will be fully numeralized.

A short definition of the plan can be given at this time. Streets run north and south starting with first street on the western boundaries of the Town and running consecutively through to 12th Street on the eastern boundary of town. The Avenues will be as heretofore: first avenue on the south and 12th avenue on the north. If a residence is on an avenue (and most of them are) the prefix number will be the number of the street immediately to the west of the house. For example the Star will use the R.C.M.P. Barracks as everyone knows its location. The building proper fronts fourth avenue and is located between King Street and Dominion Street, now changed to 11 Street and 12th Street. Therefore, the address of the R.C.M.P. Barracks in future will be 1101-4th Avenue. From this number one can readily see that the first two numbers are 11 which denotes location as between 11th Street and 12th Street and the last two numbers denote that it is the first house in the block. It should be pointed out that a space of four numbers is left between each lot to take care of duplexes, suites, etc., which might be located in the same building.

All prefix numbers under ten are located west of Main Street and over 10 east of Main Street. Therefore, houses west of main street will bear only three numbers while houses east of Main Street will carry four.

There has been a long felt need for a house numbering system in Wainwright for some time. The town has grown to such an extent that many families with the same surname reside within its borders. This alone has caused much confusion to deliveries, taxis and utility companies. Another feature of a numbered town is the ease in locating fires and the ease with which medical aid is secured. The local doctors have nothing but praise for such a system, as they

N.C. Carnival Plans Well Underway

The N.C. Carnival which is scheduled to play Wainwright on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 26, 27, 28, 29, is well underway to being one of the largest carnivals ever to play this field.

Reports from the officers of the New Canadian Club indicate that things are running smoothly and everything will be in order for the opening day. At the time of going to press the Star was unable to obtain information as to the location of the carnival. The one big stumbling block is the vast area needed by the organization to set up the rides. Wainwright is becoming so built-up that hardly any close-in space is left for such an undertaking.

The matter of the proceeds has caused some criticism and the Star feels obligated to straighten this information out. As reported in the last issue of the Star the MAJOR PORTION of the proceeds will be turned over to the P.M.C. This was quite correct, but to explain further the ladies of the N.C. Club told the Star this week that all the proceeds would be turned over to the P.M.C. with the exception of $200.00, which is needed by the Club to fulfill its obligation in fencing the property started last year as a ball park. This property was levelled last season and is situated south of 5th avenue on the west side of town.

It is hoped by the Star and the members of the N.C. Club that this explanation will clear up any misunderstanding that might have been caused by the ambiguous statement in last weeks paper regarding portion of the proceeds. All the proceeds, less $200.00 will be turned over to the P.M.C.

Regular Meeting of Wain. Hospital Board

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Wainwright Municipal Hospital District No. 17, was held at the hospital, Saturday, May 8 1948, at 1 p.m. Members present were: Chairman Trustee Gould and Trustees McLeod, Gardiner, Dietrich and Bazley. Visitors: Reeve, Mr. D. Sutherland and Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. Chas. Wilbraham of Municipal District No. 61.

Minutes of the last regular meeting and two special meetings were read, and on motion of Trustee Bazley were approved as read. Carried.

Secretary reported on his interview with the Minister of Health and the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of Edmonton, regarding a further issue of $20,000.00 debentures, to furnish and equip the new addition to the hospital. Secretary was informed that it would be necessary to take a vote on By-law No. 8, calling for the further expenditure of $20,000.00, before permission could be granted by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for the debenture issue. Moved by Trustee McLeod that the report be accepted. Carried.

The By-law No. 8 having been duly approved by the Minister of Health, it was moved by Trustee Gardiner that Mr. Chas. Wilbraham be appointed Returning Officer and that the voting day be set for June 5, 1948 and the hours of voting be from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.; Returning Officer and secretary to arrange for the printing, etc. that would be required. Carried.

Moved by Trustee Dietrich that the following points be set out as Polling Stations:—Chauvin, Edgerton Prospect Valley, Plaxtonville, Buffalo View, Fabyan and the Town of Wainwright. Carried.

Trustee Gardiner brought to the attention of the Board that in the minutes of the last Council meeting of the Municipal District No. 61, the 2 mill hospital rate was confusing to the ratepayers and asked that this be explained. Mr. Wilbraham explained that the two mill hospital rate is an added cost to Vale for "Free Hospitalization" for the year 1947, and that a correction would be made in the papers.

Moved by Trustee Dietrich that as it will take some time before delivery of furniture and equipment could be made, it would be advisable for

WHAT'S GOING ON IN P.M.C. MATTERS

Trouble has arisen in matters pertaining to the P.M.C. and the Star feels itself obliged to inform the public, which is so vitally interested in the building of the new arena. The word trouble is used, not to denote trouble in the ranks, but rather to tell of difficulties in locating the building on its present agreed sight.

At this time the plans call for the erection of the P.M.C. on Block 8 which is the land lying east of the Town Hall. Among many difficulties which have already been experienced with this location, is the fact that there is very high priced property in this block belonging to a man in Scotland, and only for the consideration of $1,000 is he willing to part with same. Some suggestion has been made that by acquiring the property at present owned by Mr. T. Patterson and Mayor Robinson in this particular block that the P.M.C can be built without paying Mr. Macgregor his $1,000. This can be done, but again it will cost money. A very conservative estimate of this transaction would be $800 which would include moving Mayor Robinson's property to another location and buying Mr. Patterson's property, moving it to a new location and offering it for re-sale. As stated above this transaction would leave the P.M.C. Building Fund $800 short of its original figure. We doubt that anyone who gave a donation to the subscription campaign considered very seriously that the money or a portion of the money would be used in the acquiring of a suitable sight. If it is absolutely necessary they might waive any feeling they had in such regard, but at present the necessity is open to question.

In conjunction with the above suggestion, the matter of closing off the lane across which the P.M.C. is to be built has come up and such action is not possible without first obtaining the permission of every property owner in said block. This Mr. MacGregor would never consent to as he would immediately see $1,000 slipping through his fingers. Another problem arises in closing the lane, as if there were not enough already, but that is the problem of the utilities which serve this area. The Alberta Government Telephones, the Calgary Power Co., and the Wainwright Gas Company would be required to move their lines and the cost of so doing would have to be met again out of the building fund. Away would go another $750.00 of building fund money with no actual construction made on the project. It has been learned by the Star that not more than $500 would be required to move the gas line, and relay it on another route. Our opinion is that $250 is a very conservative estimate of the moving of the two remaining utilities, but here we are open to correction, but please realize that $125 is not much money each for the Telephone and Power Companies to receive for the work involved.

In view of the above information it might be in order to sum up the situation as it stands.

1. Acquire Mr. McGregor's lots at $1,000, this must be done to close the alley.
2. Acquire Mayor Robinson's property and Mr. Patterson's property and move both. This must be done to provide room for the building and to close the alley. Estimated to cost not less than $800.
3. If alley is to be closed have utility companies move their transmission lines. This estimated to cost not less than $750.
4. Total cost of said project thus far, BEFORE LAND HAS EVEN BEEN LEVELED, $2500.

The above figure remember, represents a conservative estimate. It might be $250 more, it might be $250 less but we have a tendency to doubt such a statement. In addition to the above figure of $2500 there is a sum not yet added in, and that is the cost of levelling and filling. A sum which we believe would be in the neighborhood of $300 or more. This makes a grand total of $2700 to 2800 before construction can start. The $64.00 question we would like to ask at this time, Is it worth it?

On the other hand there is one alternative solution to the above. This would be to acquire the two north east corner properties from their present owners, Mayor Robinson and Mr. Patterson, and build the memorial arena along third avenue. This would require a minimum depth of 136 feet, as the building is to be 116 feet wide and only common sense would dictate that the building be placed back from the property line a minimum of 20 feet. Of course this distance could be squeezed a bit, but even then it is doubtful if there would be ample space left at the alley property line to accommodate the manouvering of large bull-dozing and scraper machines without the destruction of the gas transmission line buried only a few feet under ground. If it were possible to level the area with only this small amount of space left, this then would be the solution of placing the P.M.C. in Block 8 as agreed to at the last general meeting. We claim to solve the problem, but remember we claimed also that it will cost close to the $800 mark to acquire the two corner properties.

One other solution to the problem would be to locate the P.M.C. at a different site. At the moment we can think of four and possibly five sites that could be placed ready for building for a figure much less than anywhere near the sum mentioned earlier. If this is possible, and we are of the firm opinion that it is, would it not be a rather wasteful expenditure of good money to build the P.M.C. in Block 8? Other sites have shown to be as good as that chosen in Block 8 and some from a financial standpoint have shown to be better.

If it is to be argued that the financial stipulations alone are worthy of consideration in regard to changing the site, why then is action not taken immediately to proceed with the construction of the arena on a new site? Simply because the public at the last general meeting informed the P.M.C. executive in no uncertain terms that it was to be built and located in Block 8, and that was that. We are prone to believe that this advice was given by the general meeting in haste, and to put the matter bluntly was railroaded through. Such decisions if allowed to continue with the construction of the P.M.C. can only lead to financial ruin, and turn something which can become a reality into something which will never be finished. This is a rash and harsh statement and much as we are ashamed to make it, we never the less believe it to be true. Caution now will mean a better monument when it is completed. This has been born out by the fact that changes have been or are being made in the blue prints at this time which will eliminate posts from the ice edge. Only by waiting these last few years for something which we would have enjoyed sooner, has it been possible to prevent such a glaring mistake from being made.

In all probability careful thought given to the subject of location will prevent a similar mistake. The columns of this newspaper are open to the readers for the expression of their views on the matter.

THE NATION'S BUSINESS

by ottawa observer

Last week's debate on external affairs has made it clear to the world that Canadians of every political persuasion are united in their aims in world affairs.

While there was some criticism of details in the foreign policy so ably outlined by Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, all parties seemed to agree that almost every international event had an effect on Canada's interests and prosperity.

...A statement by the Minister that "there was no threat to the control of our own affairs" in joint Canadian -American defence arrangements was welcomed, and was accepted by parliament. There are still some attempts outside parliament, apparently inspired by communist sympathizers, to create dissention between Canada and her "good neighbor".

The debate on external affairs indicates the great measure of unity that has been achieved in spite of all difficulties and differences.

The Labor Code

As the federal government's labour bill is introduced in parliament by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, there is much interest and discussion in the capital on the labor situation in Canada. No country in the world enjoys better industrial relations than Canada. For this much credit is given to the Minister of Labor and loyal union leaders who have had to combat subversive activities, and some union officials who continue to use their position for political advantage.

The new labor bill meets particular Canadian conditions in the Canadian way. Inasmuch as nation-wide wartime controls of labor have been restored to the provinces, where it belongs under our constitution, the bill opens the way for any of the provinces to enter in agreement with the Canadian government to administer similar provincial collective bargaining.

The new bill will have jurisdiction only over such communications industries as railways, inter-provincial trucking, air transportation, radio, shipping, crown companies and such other industries as "have been declared for the general advantage of Canada or for the advantage of two or more provinces." The Bill will empower the Federal Government to enter into agreements with the several provinces for federal administration of provincial legislation with respect to any particular industry. In certain respects the Bill definitely goes a long way toward realizing three of Labor's key objectives, viz:
(1) Providing a procedure for certification of trade unions as bargaining agents.
(2) Declaring collective agreements to be binding upon employers, employees, and the bargaining agents.
(3) Rejecting, for certification purposes, unions dominated, or influenced, by an employer.

The Gallup Poll for Ontario

Last week's gallup poll confirms this column's statement that the Ontario provincial election is an open race. The Canadian Institute of public opinion has made a thorough canvas of the province and finds an unprecedented number of people—25% of the total voters—have not yet decided how they will vote. Many observers here claim they are looking for an alternative to the present government.

34% of those polled had decided to vote for the Drew government, 26% for the Liberal Party under Farquhar Oliver, 13% for the C.C.F. and 2% for other parties. It is obvious that the next government in Ontario will be decided by the 25% of the voters who are yet to be convinced. A spirited battle is being waged by Progressive Conservatives and Liberals. The poll shows that the C.C.F. party has lost about one quarter of its strength to the Liberals since 1945.

In the election of 1945 the Drew government polled 44% of the total vote.

Joe Rutledge Says

TO WHOM ARE YOU TALKING?

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

The other night we sat in a small group ruminating, casually, why so many businesses seemed to have a fatal facility for playing into the hands of persons ready or eager to misunderstand their problems. An hour or two later we picked up a copy of the Hamilton Review and read "There are Two Ways to Tell a Story." There was the gist of all we had been pondering. But still the wonder grew, that so many able men in so many important businesses, continued to believe there was only one way.

Any one of those businessmen would admit that their workers and their customers are, and should be, their major interest. Without either, profits are impossible. The shareholder also has an important, if less important, part. Yet when business has something to say or to argue or brag about, it says it in stock market jargon, that only a relatively few shareholders and virtually no customers or workers will really understand. They forget that average people respond to words that breathe, the words of the street and home, the labor temple, the lodge or the beer parlor. You can't reach them with dehumanized, accountant's talk.

After all, as the Review points out, the most devoted coupon-clipper loses interest after it has been disclosed that the 1947 profit of the Steel Company of Canada was $5,567,708 of which slightly more than $2,150,000 was distributed in dividends. But business is not only a profit-making machine. While it deals in commodities, it also deals in lives. They are its assurance of success. Why then should the emphasis always be laid on the $2,150,000 distributed as dividends. That a important. That's interesting. But why not lay equal stress on the Steel Company's 10,000 employees. While the investors were getting their $2 million, these were getting $24 million. While the investor was getting a somewhat lesser percentage than he used to get, the worker was getting almost twice as much as he earned in 1939. They might add that where the investor got his $2 million in dividends, the worker received the added benefit of $1,600,000, newly invented in pensions and sick and accident benefits and holidays with pay. They might tell of a million tons of steel, making work and benefits for other thousands, and not just record the dull record of profit and loss. Yes, the Review is right, The Steel Company—and that goes for all companies—might tell a lot better and more human story than they do.

Brucellosis

(Bang's Disease of Cattle)

Bang's disease of cattle, also called Brucellosis, is an infectious disease caused by a bacteria known as Brucella abortus. This bacteria was first discovered by Dr. Olaf Bang, a Danish Veterinarian, about the year 1895. Brucellosis is widely prevalent in practically all dairy countries of the world. It is one of the most important diseases of live stock, striking at the very source of the cattle industry in causing abortion. Brucellosis is important, too, because the infection is transmissible from animals to humans, in whom it causes Undulant Fever.

Diseased Animals Infect Herds

The most common manner in which bang's disease is transmitted to a clean herd is through the introduction of infected animals. The disease may also be contracted by placing healthy cattle on a common pasture with infected cattle.

Infection is believed to take place mainly by the disease producing bacteria gaining entrance to the digestive tract through cattle eating, drinking or licking contaminated materials. The infection then localizes in the uterus and udder. At the time of abortion the afterbirth, the fluid in the membranes, the foetus and the discharges which may persist for several weeks after the animal has aborted, are teeming with Brucella bacteria. The infected material may be spread about the pasture, yards or stables. Usually a cow will only abort once, but occasionally twice. She usually remains infected for life. This is a costly disease; the calf is lost, and there is a decrease in milk flow for that lactation period. Although the act of abortion is the principal manifestation of Bang's disease, it does not in itself constitute a positive diagnosis, as abortions may result from many other causes. Have your local Veterinarian take a blood sample to be tested to prove whether the cow is infected or not.

Control

1. To prevent introducing the disease, buy replacements only from clean herds. All additions should be negative to the blood test. They should be isolated for 60 days and, if possible, another blood test taken before being allowed to mix with the new herd.

2. To control and eradicate the disease in a herd containing only a few reactors, all cattle may be blood tested and the reactors sold for slaughter. This would have to be followed by a blood test every three months until all reactors are eliminated from the herd. Infected cattle should be sold for slaughter and not to the neighbors.

3. Many live stock men prefer to follow a yearly program of calfhood vaccination. This policy is favoured, as they consider it less expensive than slaughtering a high percentage of the herd. Calves are vaccinated between the ages of four and eight months to develop resistance against Brucellosis. If this is done for five or six years a herd can be built up in which the vaccinated heifers, on maturity, replace the reactors. A large number of Alberta ranchers have followed this program for several years. As a result, in some cases where they had thirty to forty abortions in the herd yearly, this has been cut down to one or two. The aim in the use of the vaccine in a Brucellosis infected herd should be directed toward eradication of the disease as well as the assurance of a calf crop.

4. Calfhood Vaccination Program—For the purpose of assisting in the reduction of cattle losses from Brucellosis—(Bang's disease) the Alberta Department of Agriculture is prepared to assist owners, who make application for calfhood vaccination, in the following manner:

1. By providing Brucella Abortus (Strain 19)—and tattooes.

2. By maintaining a record of officially vaccinated calves.

3. By providing laboratory examination of blood samples and the testing of vaccine for potency when necessary. The Veterinarians, wishing to assist in this program have agreed to a very moderate scale of fees for vaccination. Discuss your Brucellosis problems with your Veterinarian, as he is well qualified to give advice regarding diagnosis and control.

Cattle owners wishing to take advantage of this plan may obtain application forms from their local Veterinarian, the Director of Veterinary Services, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton—or from the office of their local District Agriculturist.

These Are Tender

Nothing is to be gained by planting or setting out the really tender flowers and vegetables until all danger of frost is over and air and soil begin to warm up. They simply won't grow if the weather is cold. Of course where seed is sown, or roots or tubers used, these are protected until the plants get above ground. Potatoes, gladiolus and dahlias, for instance, are all pretty tender, but because it takes at least several days, and sometimes a week or so before th sprouts appear above ground, they have that extra protection and can go in a little while before danger of the last light frost. With started plants such as cabbage, tomatoes, peppers and scores of other flowers, however, hold until the weather turns warm or, if one simply cannot wait, then be prepared to protect against frost with some light cover at night.

Vine Plants

An important line in the tender category are members of the vine family—cucumbers, melons, squash, citron, etc. These should not be planted out until the soil, as well as the air, is warm and they require special care. Light, very rich soil is best for them and if that is not available it is best to loosen clay with plenty of strawy material. They are best planted in hills.

Hills are simply loose soil built up in mounds 2 or 3 feet across and about 6 inches high. Into these should be worked plenty of well-rotted manure or black mulch. This keeps the soil open so that the soft, fibrous roots can penetrate easily and the darkish color of the muck or well-rotted manure absorbs the heat of the sun which these plants love. Keep weeds cleared away, watch out for bugs, and to encourage early fruiting nip off end of vines when half a dozen melons or a dozen or so squash or cucumbers are on the way.

Watch Out For Damage

If insects or disease really get well developed in a garden there is liable to be heavy damage before control can take effect. To guard against this, experienced gardeners are always on the watch for signs of pests and at the first indication they open an offensive. These experts are suspicious when they see a wilted or curled or eaten leaf, even if the insects responsible for same are too small to be noticed by the naked eye.

Generally signs are easy to read and cures are readily available. Holes in the leaves mean that bugs that chew are present. They are destroyed with poisons. If the leaves wilt and dry up, sucking insects are extracting the plant juices. Sprays or dusts that burn them, but not the foliage, will control. If leaves turn reddish or greyish this usually indicates the presence of a fungus disease. It is common with climbing roses and hollyhocks especially during muggy weather. Finely ground sulphur and other chemicals will check it.

One can mix his own sprays or dusts but as a rule it is cheaper and also far more convenient to buy ready mixed preparations. Many of these are combined to control several different types of pests, the newer DDT dusts and sprays being particularly effective.

Fruit and Vegetables On Spring Menus

We all look forward to the lift our meals will get when our gardens again yield their freshness. But what do we do in the meantime? At least two servings each of fruits and vegetables are essential daily if we are to give our families the best chance for health.

Here are two suggestion from Miss Joyce Lewis, Nutrition Specialist, Alberta Department of Agriculture.

1. Be on the watch for the first wild greens such as dandelions and lambs quarters. They give just as much food value as the spinach or chard we grow in our gardens, and will be available long before we have anything ready in our gardens. It does take a little time to pick and clean them but they will be well worth the effort.

2. Make more use of dried fruits and vegetables. Consider the lowly prune for instance—a serving of four medium prunes provides as much iron as we would get from 5 or 6 leaves of lettuce. They also give a fair share of vitamin A and of the B vitamins, as well as other essential minerals.

Are you using your dried peas and beans? When other vegetables are scarce we should use these more often. They are an inexpensive source of food values and may be prepared in many attractive ways. For ideas on the use of dried peas and beans write to the Home Economics Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, Ask for the leaflet "Use Your Peas and Beans".

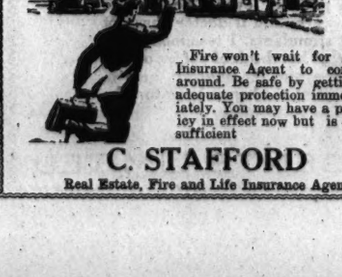

THE SIMPLE SULFAS

The sulfa drugs are so widely known, so remarkable in their effect, and so easily administered that caution is necessary in their use. Since these drugs have simply to be swallowed in pill form, there is a tendency for them to be used as a means of home treatment without medical advice. Like many effective drugs they are dangerous if not administered wisely and with the necessary precautions. Fortunately the doctor can provide his patient with the necessary "do's and don't's" when he prescribes a sulfa drug for an illness. He can also make certain tests which will guide him as to whether it is necessary to discontinue treatment with sulfa.

HELP IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

ARTIFICIAL RESPIRATION: Prone Method.

Some injuries such as electric shock, drowning, gas poisoning & choking interfere with breathing and may cause asphyziation, unless normal breathing is promptly restored. Artificial respiration should be restored to bring this about but remember, SEND FOR A DOCTOR IMMEDIATELY.

Lay the patient prone, (face down), the head "downhill", if possible, with one arm extended directly overhead, and the other arm bent at the elbow to form a resting place for head, so that nose and mouth are free for breathing.

Kneel, straddling the patient's thighs, with palms of the hands on the small of the back, and fingers resting on the ribs. the little finger just touching the lowest rib, and the fingers extended straight down.

With arms held straight, swing forward slowly, bringing the weight of the body gradually upon the patient, so that the shoulder in this position is directly over the heel of the hand at the end of the forward swing. Do not bend elbows. Then immediately swing backward, so as to remove the pressure completely. After two seconds, repeat the pressure and release, the complete swing forward and backward to take four or five seconds, or 12 to 15 times a minute. Continue without interruption until the patient breathes naturally.

Patients have been revived after as long as four hours or more by this method. Keep up the artificial respiration and do not allow patient, even if he starts to breathe naturally, to stand or sit up. Keep patient warm and if doctor has not arrived by the time patient has revived, give light stimulants, 1 teaspoon of aromatic spirits of ammonia in a small glass of water, or hot drink of coffee or tea. Watch patient to see that normal breathing continues, and if natural breathing stops, begin artificial respiration again. If necessary, to change operator, the change should be made without losing the rhythm of respiration.

Report To The People

mission feels "wilfully concealed" some ailment on enlistment. In its place there will be a clause saying that pension can be awarded only for wartime aggravations of any ailment or disability that was "recorded on medical examination prior to enlistment".

3) Payment of pensions on the near est multiple of five. Thus, a man with a 47 percent disability would get a 45 percent pension; a man with 48 would get 50.

4) Advance of the deadline for First World War pensioners' marriages from May 1, 1944, to May 1, 1948. This means that such a pensioner can get dependent's allowance for a woman he marries up to the latter date and for children born of a marriage up to that date. The deadline is aimed at "deathbed marriages" of aged veterans to young women.

5) Revision of a clause to give the Pension Commission definite instructions to give the veteran the benefit of the doubt in any application for pension.

The Committee's recommendations were brought in, as already stated, on Tuesday, May the 11th, and on Friday, May 14th, the legislation was given Royal Assent. In addition to the above provision has been made on another occasion for an increase in war veterans' allowance of from $30 to $40 a month for single and married men, and the Committee is at the present time still further considering war veterans' allowance and a proposal of a minimum of $50 per month.

On Friday, May 14th, the Prime Minister announced the laying of a foundation for better health services in Canada. He outlined the plan in a 3,000-word statement, and said that Parliament would be asked to vote the money at its present session, presumably within the next month before prorogation. The grants were described as the first stages in the development of a comprehensive health insurance plan for Canada. If a health insurance scheme were launched now, he added, it would fail, he stated, because of the country's tremendous shortage of hospital beds.

The money will be spent by the province in the vital fields of health survey—cancer, tuberculosis and venereal diseases control, treatment of crippled children, research, mental health care and hospital construction.

The only condition attached to the grants is that the provinces maintain at least their present expenditure on health services. Generally, the grants will be made on a per capita basis.

The specific grants, which go to all the provinces, are:

1) The Government will make available immediately to all provinces a health survey grant of $625,000.

2) A grant of 35c per capita is proposed to strengthen general public health services in those areas where the provincial authorities themselves most keenly recognize the need. In succeeding years the grant is to increase by 5c per capita, finally reaching a peak at the rate of 50c per capita. These public health grants will continue from year to year with the initial outlay coming to approximately $4,404,000 for a full year.

3) The Dominion Government will ask Parliament to make available to the provinces an annual grant of three million dollars rising annually over a period of years to four millions annually for tuberculosis control.

4) Parliament will also be asked to vote money for mental health care amounting initially to four million dollars per annum and rising over a period of years to the maximum of seven million dollars a year.

5) Parliament will also be asked to vote $500,000 annually to combat venereal disease.

6) The Government is also asking Parliament for $500,000 annually for crippled children's aid to be divided on a per capita basis between the various provinces.

7) A provision will also be made for $100,000 for the first year rising to $500,000 for public health research.

8) In addition to the grants originally outlined in the 1945 Dominion-Provincial talks, the Federal Government will make an annual grant to the provinces amounting to a maximum of 3½ million dollars to fight cancer.

9) The Government will seek an appropriation for the construction of additional hospital accommodation amounting to $1,000 a bed for active treatment cases and $1,500 per bed for chronic cases.

To put this into effect, a conference will be called by the Minister of National Health and Welfare with the heads and officials of the Health Departments of the various provinces as soon as the necessary money is voted by Parliament, and it is hoped that no time will be lost in making available to the people of Canada the services outlined above.

Human Interest Stories

By Douglas W. Smith
Public Relations Officer,
Canadian Legion, BESL

I wonder what has happened to File No. 12-9-M. A number in the sense of records but representing a Legion case. Let me tell you the story of 12-9-M.

I was idly dunking a doughnut in my coffee and shooting the breeze with a couple of ex-army types. Across in the next booth was a cute little number. So cute, in fact, that I almost scalded my finger in the dunking.

It didn't take me long to figure out that this chick had more on her mind than blond waves. She kept staring into space and biting her lip. Suddenly a tear rolled down her cheek which she hastily tried to wipe away.

We couldn't help but feel curious. A few words from her to the little boy by her side was enough for us. We glanced at each other and nodded. A war bride without doubt.

She kept fidgeting with her empty cup and finally the tears ran uncontrolled down her cheeks. If there's anything that gets a man it's to see a woman crying.

After an uncomfortable silence I decided to pull a Sir Galahad. I went over to her booth and said, "Excuse me, but you seem to be in trouble. Is there anything we can do to help?"

She kept her head averted and hastily tried to dry her tears. "Please leave me alone, please go away."

I was in a quandary. What the heck can you do with an obviously overwrought woman anyhow. On impulse I said, "O.K., I'm sorry for butting in, but if you need any help you might look this outfit up. They make a speciality of handling veterans' problems." Then I slipped my card on her table.

Days later I had almost completely forgotten the weeping war bride when she was ushered into my office.

She was haggard looking. Seldom in my career of covering police courts and other places of human misery had I seen greater suffering on a person's face.

She had more control of herself now but you could see that she had gone through mental anguish.

After the usual palaver of beating around the bush I got her to talk.

It was the story we hear so much of in our work. She met a soldier at a dance. She had been seventeen at the time. A quick romance followed by a hasty marriage before 'D' Day.

After the war she came to Canada to join her husband with their young son. A year later her husband died leaving her nothing. On top of it she was going to have another baby.

Both of her parents had been killed overseas and she had no one to turn to. Her mother-in-law didn't take to her in the first place. In addition her mother-in-law kept hitting the gin bottle. Everytime she got drunk she blamed the bride for her son's death.

She looked at me and said, "Look I only want to do one thing. I want to get back to England. But I haven't any money and I can't earn any in my present condition."

She was in a spot indeed. Veterans' legislation doesn't make any provision for indigent war brides. She knew few people here. And if you ever want to find just how many friends you really have, go to them with an empty pocketbook looking for a refill.

Luckily the Legion knows a few Good Samaritans. You would be surprised how many people in important positions, while you never hear of them being actively associated with the Legion, are silent workers.

The gist of the story is that following three long distance 'phone calls we had good news for her in one week. Two weeks later she was on her way to England with all expenses paid.

I don't know whether to close File No. 12-9-M. We haven't heard from her since. We keep opening new files every day. But I just can't help wondering what happened to 12-9-M.

Will Extend Program To Centre-Line Roads

Centre lining of main highways in Alberta will be continued this year, according to officials of the public works department.

The scheme was carried on extensively last year and was found to give great satisfaction while also providing greater safety, a step highly commended by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Use of a centre line also has had the effect of reducing the number of night time accidents, it is claimed. The luminous line stands out prominently and is easily observed, enabling traffic to keep to its right side and reduce the hazards of night driving.

Meantime, recent flood conditions in Alberta are feared to have done extensive damage to the highways and cause heavy outlays to bring some roads back to their former standard.

In some areas crews have been delayed in getting started on this year's projects owing to the late spring, though considerable gravel was assembled during the winter for early surfacing operations.

Low Fares For Victoria Day Week-End

Victoria Day marks the opening of the long week-end holidays for the 1948 summer season and special low fares are announced by Wm. Stapleton, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways.

The special rate of single fare and one third for the round trip, good between all stations in Canada, goes on sale at noon Friday, May 21, and will be available until 2 PM, Monday May 24. However, if there is no train service Friday afternoon, tickets will be good on Friday morning trains. Returning, tickets will be good to leave destination up to midnight, Tuesday, May 25.

All times quoted are standard—where daylight saving time applies, add one hour.

Hints for the Household

PLANOVERS

The scorned word "leftovers" is out of date. "Planover" has been added to the vocabulary of the successful homemaker. The return engagement of cooked food should not be greeted with derision but welcomed as a good friend in new attire.

Every good cook has several new tricks up her sleeve. These are particularly apt when there are bits of food not used at one meal which must appear again later.

Sometimes, however, the efficient manager will cook double quantities of food deliberately planning to cook once and eat twice. This saves time, energy and often fuel. Frequently the casserole dish or dessert is richer and more appetizing than when served the first day. There are many delicious seasonings and sauces to trim up the same food in different ways.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, are experts at this game of using up every scrap of food making it into dishes that are attractive and delectable. Sometimes there is just a little meat. If stretched a bit it will serve two.

Meat Souffle

3 tablespoons fat
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
3 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
1 egg, separated
½ cup cooked meat, ground
Salt and pepper to taste

Melt fat in top of double boiler, add flour and blend. Add milk slowly and stir constantly until very thick. Add crumbs, beaten egg yolk and meat to sauce. Mix well and season to taste. Fold in stiffly beaten egg yolk and meat to sauce. Mix well and season to taste. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Turn into 2 well-greased custard cups. Steam 35 to 40 minutes or until a silver knife, inserted in the centre, comes out clean. Yield: two servings.

Vegetable Meat Salad

2 cups chopped cooked meat
3 radishes, sliced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ cup chopped green onion
¼ cup chopped green pickle
½ cup drained canned tomatoes
½ teaspoon vinegar
½ cup salad dressing

Mix all ingredients. Chill. Serve on crisp lettuce. Yield: six servings.

This salad allows for any number of variations. Cucumber, raw tomatoes, raw or cooked vegetables or grated cheese may be substituted or added as desired.

Farina Crumb Dessert

1/3 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 cup cooked farina
½ teaspoon vanilla
1¼ cups cake crumbs

Combine the sugar, cocoa and salt. Gradually stir in the milk. Add the beaten egg, cooked farina and vanilla. Stir in the cake crumbs. Pour into a greased casserole or pudding dish. Bake in a moderately slow oven (325°F, for one hour. Yield: six servings.

Time Out For Laughs

An invitation to dinner had been sent to a newly settled physician, and in reply the hostess received a letter so hopelessly scrawled that she was unable to make out whether it was a acceptance or other wise.

'Take it to the druggist,' said her husband. "Druggists can always read doctors writing, no matter how bad it is."

She did so. After looking at the letter a moment, the druggist went to the rear of the store. In five minutes he returned with a bottle.

"There you are, ma'am," he said, "that will be fifty cents."

A doctor was addressing his class. He said, "Liquor has killed more people. Staying out late has taken more lives." Smoking has taken more lives."

A pupil arose and interrupted him, "I don't believe it, Doctor. My grand father drank like a fish and smoked like a chimney. He died at the age of 106 when he met with an accident while chasing a goodlooking woman up Suydenham Hill."

"Some persons cause happiness wherever they go—others whenever they go."

PLAN OF WAINWRIGHT
For House Numbering System
(NOT A SCALE DRAWING)

All residents of the Town of Wainwright are asked to co-operate in the Wainwright and District Board of Trade's house numbering system when it gets underway on June 2nd.

Below will be found a drawing of the town (not to scale) and shown are the streets and avenues in their numbered form. You will notice that the names of the streets have been changed to numbers for the purpose of the house numbering system. This change was made by Town Council in the form of a by-law.

A Short Description of Plan

1. Streets run North and South and Avenues run East and West.
2. First street is located on the West and the streets run consecutively increasing by one from West to East.
3. Avenues increase by one consecutively from 1st Avenue on the South through to 12th Avenue on the North.
4. The plan is adopted somewhat after Edmontons with the exception that the street numbers increase when travelling East, instead of West as in Edmonton.

LET'S ALL CO-OPERATE

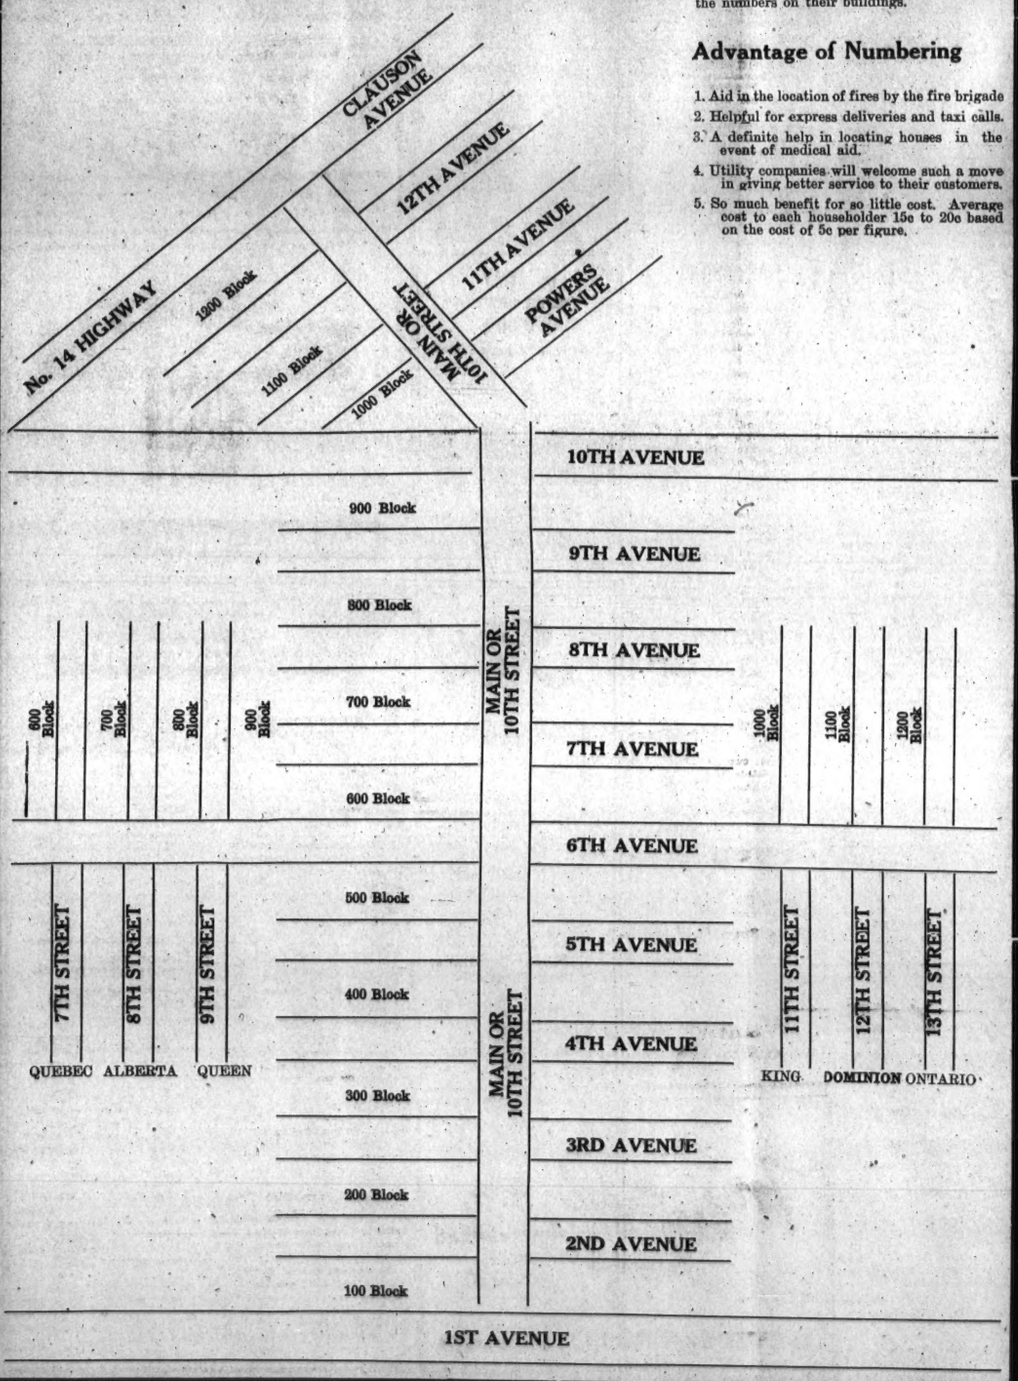

The Board of Trade requests everyone to co-operate in this matter and feel sure that if everyone does, a numbering system for Wainwright would be to everyone's advantage.

The afternoon of Wednesday, June 2nd, has been set aside as the day which the members of the Civic Improvement Committee of the B. of T. will make a routine canvass of the town, alloting numbers to each house and Wednesday morning, June 2nd, for the business section. It must be pointed out by the Board of Trade that while the system is not comulsory it is to everyone's advantage to co-operate and place the numbers on their buildings.

Advantage of Numbering

1. Aid in the location of fires by the fire brigade
2. Helpful for express deliveries and taxi calls.
3. A definite help in locating houses in the event of medical aid.
4. Utility companies will welcome such a move in giving better service to their customers.
5. So much benefit for so little cost. Average cost to each householder 15c to 20c based on the cost of 5c per figure.

Numbers Alloted Wednesday, June 2

How easy for you to

"NAME THE NATIONAL"

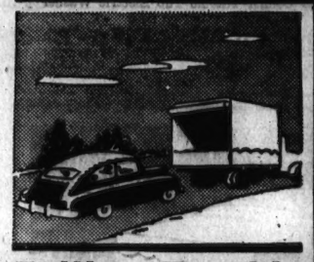

PERHAPS you have a Will in which you have named a friend or relative as Executor. If you wish to "Name the National" instead, it is not necessary to make a new Will — the change can be made by a simple codicil.

If you would like to talk over the plan of your Will, we invite you to consult one of our Trust Officers.

ROAD - SENSE

Tailing Trouble

Driving can be safe, but injury and death stalk the careless driver. NO PRACTICE IS MORE LOADED WITH DANGER THAN FOLLOWING TOO CLOSELY BEHIND ANOTHER VEHICLE, especially a larger one that obscures the view ahead. If the driver ahead stops suddenly, you are in a smash-up. If you pull out to pass, you may be hit by an approaching car before you have time to see it. Drive carefully and live longer.

The A.M.A. Promotes Tourist Trade

Every Albertan benefits, directly or indirectly from this flow of buying power across our borders. The A.M.A. has worked consistently for improvement of roads, accommodations, and conditions generally, as they affect the good opinion of our visitors. A.M.A. membership will add pleasure to your motor trips, and give you many benefits—for only $10 a year.

Let us have good roads in Alberta AND safe roads. The government's announced road building plans for 1948 are one step in the right direction. A step towards safer roads can also be taken by the inauguration of some system of Driver Training and Testing. We recommend to the government that its study of such a plan be carried into action as soon as practicable.
